

HISTORY

Associate in Arts

Great Bay's History program prepares you to transfer to a four-year school and complete your bachelor degree in history or political science and beyond. Courses allow students to examine historical and political perspectives and concepts, and to explore various views from our own country and around the world. By utilizing strong research skills, students can begin to develop the ability to argue in historical and political debates, both written and oral, and from multiple perspectives.

Our courses explore various places and time periods. Working with historical sources you will practice analyzing, developing, writing, presenting, and defending ideas on a path to careers in law, public policy, education, government, or historic preservation.
